

Central Texas Medical Orchestra

DEAR FRIENDS OF MUSIC & MEDICINE

During one of my dozen or so trips to M.D. Anderson Medical Center in Houston, Texas where my daughter Melenie was undergoing cancer treatment, I heard about the Texas Medical Orchestra.

Inspired by the great medical accomplishments of MD Anderson and the talents of the Medical Orchestra I returned home to Austin and began developing plans for forming a Medical Orchestra in Austin with my colleague Dr. Robert Radmer.

Our vision for the CTMO was that it would provide medical professionals the opportunity to once again play music they loved by presenting orchestral performances that raised funds in support of health-related nonprofits in the Austin community.

For those of you who give back to our community through your talents both in music and medicine, THANKS from all of us whose lives and families are made whole by the work you do!

Walter Laich,
Executive Director

PS. My daughter got the "all clear" in February, 2011 and has been Cancer free since then
